Subject: Mixrosoft settlement

There are 3 PC's in our family working with Windows; we all believe that Windows was a factor in decreasing the price of personal PC's and that the consumer has substantially benefited. Microsoft competition didn't like it and got e receptive ear in Clinton's Administration resulting in an antitrust suit. After protracted litigation an equitable settlement was reached; it is being now attacked by Attorneys General of several states. Further delay will prevent return to normalcy in the PC market and enrich trial lawyers. I urge you to conclude the matter now. Respectfully Walter Roubik
